

Formulation and Evaluation Aids for Map Work in Geography

Part 1: Phrases for Description

1. The map illustrates _____ (e.g., population density, income levels, etc.).
2. A significant feature of the map is _____, which indicates _____.
3. The distribution of _____ is evident in the map, showing that _____.
4. One notable trend observed is _____, which can be seen in the region of _____.
5. The map highlights differences in _____ between _____ and _____.

Part 2: Showing Connections

1. This pattern can be attributed to _____, which explains why _____.
2. As a result of _____, we can see that _____ has occurred in _____.
3. The correlation between _____ and _____ suggests that _____.
4. Consequently, the data indicates that _____, leading to _____.
5. The map suggests that changes in _____ have resulted in _____.
- 6.

Part 3: Making Evaluations

1. It is evident that _____ has a significant impact on _____.
2. The effectiveness of the map in conveying _____ is _____ because _____.
3. One limitation of this map is _____, which may lead to _____.
4. Overall, the map provides a clear representation of _____, but it lacks _____.
5. In evaluating the data, it is clear that _____ influences _____.

Part 4: Drawing Conclusions with Map References

1. In conclusion, the map demonstrates that _____, particularly in the area of _____.
2. Based on the information presented, it can be concluded that _____ has led to _____.
3. The evidence from the map supports the idea that _____, as seen in _____.
4. Therefore, we can infer that _____ is a crucial factor in understanding _____.
5. Ultimately, the map serves as a valuable tool for illustrating _____, especially in relation to _____.